HOLLINGSWORTH LIBRARY

BOOKS OF THE LATE AMOR L. HOLLINGSWORTH TO BE DISPERSED.

A Magnificent Collection Gathered by a Booklover—Some Notable Nuggets of New England History, Including Early Massachusetts Laws, Ranked Among the Rarest of Rare Books—Early Printing and the Classics Not Overlooked—Early Chronicles, Including the Nuremberg of 1493—Many Scarce Books in English First Editions.

The large number of books which the late Amor L. Hollingsworth of Milton, gathered in the course of a long and useful life form both a library and a collection. Mr. Hollingsworth was a collector of the same type as the late Frederick W. French, the dispersal of whose library in 1901 is one of the great milestones in the history of book auctions. But at the same time he was a reader, interested not only in the great rarities, but in literature in its broad sense, making a library for himself and those who surrounded him. Fortunately he began years ago when many of the prizes of to-day had not been locked up forever in public libraries, and after he became interested in literature and book collecting, some of the great private libraries—the Brinley, Barlow, Ives, Menzies, French, McKee and others—came into the market and afforded Mr. Hollingsworth an opportunity to enrich his library and collection with works which are the envy of the bibliophile. To his appreciation of the best in literature he added a love of fine bindings and of fine engravings. A history of the art of engraving from the earliest times to the present, illustrated by the best examples of masters, may be found in his splendid collection, now to be dispersed. Many of his books were selected with reference to this point, and while he was not an extra-illustrator in the common sense of that word, he had some magnificent books of this class. Early in his career as a collector he became affiliated with many of the best book publishing clubs, and almost up to the time of his death he retained a lively interest in the Club of Odd Volumes of this city, the Grolier Club of New York, Caxton Club of Chicago, and others. He did not neglect to obtain original issues of the most famous of modern presses and his sporting books have already been described in the Bibliographer column of the Transcript.

That this magnificent library is to be sold by auction, may come as a surprise to some, but Mr. Hollingsworth felt that as others in the family had libraries of their own, his treasures, at his death, should be dispersed in order that others might have the same opportunity he had and feel the same pleasure he felt in the acquisition of rare books offered in auction sales.

RARE AMERICANA.

This library is rich in Rare Americana, there are no less than twenty-one Mathers, for instance, with some of the great rarities. There are not only the writings of Increase, Richard, Cotton and Samuel Mather, but of Nathaniel of London, and Samuel of Dublin, sons of Richard Mather: pre-eminent among them are Increase Mather's "Kometopathi; or a Discourse Concerning Comets," Boston, 1683, bound by Riviere: Cotton Mather's "Memorable Providences Relating to Witchcrafts and Possessions," Boston 1689, and the "Magnalia Christi Americana," London, 1702, with the original map and list of books; two copies of the "Parentator," and other rare sermons and tracts, all beautifully bound. A volume which will be eagerly sought is the Massachusetts Bay Acts and Laws, 1699–1712. This is the first revision of the Province Laws, of which Ames and Goodell wrote in 1869: "The editions of 1699 and 1714 are among the rarest of rare books and the copies of them now extant are usually without the supplements."

There are certain books which may properly be described as the foundation stones of New England history. Most important collections of Americana contain one or more of them. Rarely is a library to be found which has so many as this. There is a clean and large copy of Thomas Lechford's "Plain Dealing, Or, Nevvs from New-England," written by the first lawyer in Boston, and printed in London, in 1642, beautifully bound by Riviere & Son. Le Clercq's "Nouvelle Relation," Lyons, 1692, is the Pratt copy, with four extra contemporary drawings, bound by Champs. John Josselyn's "Account of Two Voyages to New England," London, 1674, is the original edition with the license leaf. Edward Johnson's "Wonder-Working Providence," as his history of New England, printed in London, in 1654, is commonly called, is bound by Otto Zahn of Toof & Company in raspberry-colored mirror levant morocco extra with inside borders and gilt edges. There are two Jesuit Relations, original editions. One is Lallemant's, of 1648, bound by David, the Pratt copy. This rare book contains an account of Père Druillette's visit to Boston. The other is Vimont's, of 1643, bound by Riviere. A scarce work is Jonathan Parsons' "Good News from a Far Country," Portsmouth, 1756. A note by the late owner states that this was the first book printed in New Hampshire. Thomas Prince's "Chronological History of New England," Boston, 1736, is a fine copy with the list of subscribers. Samuel Hopkins' "Housatunnuk Indians" is one of the rarest works relating to New England. It is not mentioned in Fields' or Pilling's Indian bibliographies, and the last copy sold was the Balcom, which brought $78.00. This copy is in full crimson levant with inside borders by the Club Bindery.

Lescarbot's "Histoire de la Nouvelle France," Paris 1609, is the first edition with the genuine maps, bound by Chambolle Duru in full crimson crushed levant. A copy of this was recently in a New York catalogue at $335. There is an Amsterdam edition of Montanus, printed in 1675, much scarcer than the Dutch original, and containing many more plates than the Menzies copy. One of the rarest of books relating to New England history is Mason's "Brief History of the Pequot War," Boston, 1736, edited by Thomas Prince from the original manuscript of Major Mason. Mr. Hollingsworth had the Balcom copy which brought $445, and had it put in a full black crushed levant binding by the Club Bindery. Penhallow's "Indian Wars," printed by T. Fleet in 1726, is among the rarest of New England imprints. The Ives copy brought $100 and the Brinley copy $130. This copy, which has the first page of text in exact facsimile, has an autograph note of Samuel Penhallow inserted. Here is the Deane copy of Purchas' Microcosmus, London, 1619. The "Journals of Major Robert Rogers," London, 1765, is the Gerald E. Hart copy of the first edition, with the unnumbered leaf of advertisements, bound by Larkins.

James Adair's "History of the American Indians," published in London in 1775, is a fine, original copy in contemporary binding. The American Military Pocket Atlas, London, 1776, is immaculate and contains the six folding maps in perfect condition. As there were no American maps of value at the time of the Revolution, the operations of the British campaign were largely based on these, which were made by D. E. Brahm, Romans, Cook, Jackson and Collett, Major Holland and other officers. Isaac Backus's "History of New England with Particular Reference to... Baptists," printed in Boston in 1777, reprinted in Providence in 1784, is here in the original edition. Here is one of the five copies of the Cambridge, 1862, reprint of the Bay Psalm Book, printed on India paper and richly bound in full crimson crushed levant morocco, with a wide doublé of blue levant. Beverly's "History of Virginia," London, 1722, is a fine clean copy, magnificently bound by Otto Zahn in mirror brown levant morocco. Pishey Thompson's "History and Antiquities of Boston," relates to "our old home," and is an uncut copy. Charlevoix's "Journal of a Voyage to North America" is the English edition of 1761, with the folded map untorn. Colden's "Five Indian Nations" is the original London edition of 1747. Drayton's "Memoirs of the American Revolution," Charleston, 1821, is a clean, uncut copy with a rare portrait of the author inserted. Esquemeling's "Bucaniers of America," London, 1684-85, is the Barlow copy with a fine impression of the portrait of Sir Henry Morgan, often missing. Gordon's "History . . . of the Independence of the United States of America," London, 1788, is the original edition. Heath's "Life of a Soldier," London, 1823, is a fine clean copy, one of the rarest of colored-plate books. No copy has appeared in this country at auction for many years. There is a copy of the rare Paris issue of Thomas Jefferson's "Notes on the State of Virginia," 1782, it is the C. Fiske Harris copy, bought by Sabin for him in 1873, for $85. Captain John Knox's "Historical Journal of the Campaigns in North America," London, 1769, is complete with the map and portraits of Wolfe and Amherst. Captain Bernard Roman's "East and West Florida," New York, 1775, is complete as published; with six engraved plates by the author, inscribed to "Honble John Hancock, Esqr. for Harvard College." A "Topographical Description of the State of Ohio," Boston, 1812, has the plate engraved by Carter, showing Cincinnati as a hamlet of about forty houses and one church. The Hollingsworth copy of the "Narrative of Lieutenant-Gen. Sir John Clinton," London, 1783, is extra illustrated by the insertion of thirteen plates and portraits including an etched portrait of Washington, mezzotint of Lafayette and Sir Henry Clinton by Bartolozzi.

Tracts and pamphlets of historical interest are many. The Deane copy of Rev. William Hubbard's election sermon, May 3, 1675, found its way into this library. This is one of the early books printed by John Foster, the first printer of Boston. He printed two in 1675, and four in 1676, two of them after this one. Mary Rowlandson's Narrative, Boston, 1720, is handsomely bound by Riviere. John Norton's "Abel Being Dead Yet Speaketh," London, 1658, is the life of the most eminent New England clergyman of his time (John Cotton) by his successor in position and influence. A very rare tract is Samuel Willard's "Ne Sutor Ultra Crepidam," Boston, 1681, written in reply to Russel's "Brief Narrative." Of association interest is Bishop Burnet's sermon, S. Green, Boston, 1689, with the autograph of Thomas Prince. A fine copy of Tate and Brady's Psalms, Boston, 1754, with sixteen pages of engraved music is an edition not mentioned by O'Callaghan or Wright. The London, 1604, edition of "The Whole Booke of Psalms," a predecessor of the Bay Psalm Book, has the music printed throughout the text. So many are the scarce volumes in the department of Americana that mention can only be made by title of:

Talifer's "Georgia," Charles-Town, 1741, original edition; Hazard's "Historical Collections," Philadelphia, 1792-94; the Hutchinson and Oliver Letters, Edes & Gill, 1773; Heriot's "Travels Through the Canadas," London, 1807; Hayward's "Tennessee," Knoxville, 1823; Keith's "History of the British Plantations in America," London, 1738; Experience Mayhew's "Indian Converts," London, 1727; Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," 1797; Smith's "History of Nova Cæsaria," Burlington, 1765; C. Stedman's "American War," London, 1794, exceptionally fine; Trumbull's "Connecticut," New Haven, 1818; Vincent's "Delaware," Philadelphia, 1870; and Young's "Chronicles," both of the Pilgrim Fathers and First Planters, Boston, 1841–46.

EARLY PRINTED AND ILLUSTRATED BOOKS.

Early printing and the classics have not been overlooked in this magnificent library. A small quarto in old Italian boards Bartolomeo of Cremona, 1472, has a fine illuminated initial. The publisher was Nicolao Truno of Venice, and this was Bartolomeo's first book (Proctor 4221: Coppinger 4426). One of the choicest specimens of Erhart Ratdolt's press, printed at Augsburg in 1490 is Publicius' "Ars Oratoria Ars Epistolandi," a very rare work in black letter, with curious woodcuts, to which Dibdin devoted fourteen pages of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana. A curious book of emblems with plates by Johannes Theodori de Bry, 1617, has fifty plates and fifty fugues with music. This is a fine copy of an excessively rare alchemical work, from the Brayton Ives collection (No. 613). Among the classics are the Amsterdam edition of Lucretius, 1754, with brilliant impressions of the Eisen plates and bound by Chambolle-Duru; Ovid's Metamorphoses with the Eisen plates printed in Paris in 1767; Tasso's "Jerusalem Delivered," with Le Roy's plates, printed at Paris in 1771, and Ariosto's "Orlando Furioso," Venice, 1584, with brilliant impressions of the numerous copper plates and in a most magnificent binding by Chambolle-Duru. "Clio and Euterpe," London, 1762, is a fine copy of an exceedingly rare book of engraved songs. A Book of Hours printed on vellum in Gothic type, with the calendar, is the Dawson Turner copy of Simon à Voste, Paris, 1498. There are many fine and curious designs in the borders.

RARE CHRONICLES.

In early chronicles the library is rich. One of the greatest rarity is the black letter edition of Froissart's "Chronycles of Englande," etc., printed by William Myddleton and Rycharde Pynson, 1525. The Perkins copy of this rarity brought $480 and the Corser copy $475. A very rare chronicle is Bossiana's, printed at Milan in 1492, and bound in morocco extra by Bedford. Pickering's reprint of the Chronicle of Master Wace, London, 1837, bound by Riviere, has a duplicate set of fifty colored plates inserted. Cooper's Chronicle, in black letter, printed at London in 1560, gives the credit for the foundation of printing to Faust. The Hollingsworth copy is bound by Bedford in full antique crushed levant, blind and gold-tooled in panels, gilt on rough edges. The gem of the collection in this line, however, is a fine copy of the Nuremburg Chronicle of 1493, in the original oak boards, covered with stamped pigskin, with clasps. This has not only the scarce map at the end, but the cut of Pope Joan and her baby, generally either destroyed by cutting out or by erasure. This German edition is the great picture book of the Middle Ages, with 2250 woodcuts by Wolgemuth and Pleydenwuff. This was the Gerald E. Hart copy.

ENGLISH FIRST EDITIONS.

In English first editions the gem is undoubtedly the copy of "The Germ," that short-lived organ of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood issued in London in 1859, to the four numbers of which Dante Gabriel Rossetti contributed his first writings. William P. Rossetti was the editor and Christina Rossetti, Ford Madox Brown, Coventry Patmore and others were contributors. The Hollingsworth copy is the original issue with all the covers and advertisements bound in. It was bound by Cobden-Sanderson at the Doves Bindery, in olive green morocco, tooled with lilies, full gilt back, gilt on uncut leaves. The French copy in parts, with Rossetti's autograph, brought $975 in 1901. There is a fine line of Charles Lamb items. including an exceptionally tall copy of the "Tales from Shakspeare," beautifully bound by Zaehnsdorf, in green crushed levant extra, inside gold borders, with gilt edges. Fine copies are exceeding rare, and the French copy brought $300. There is a collected set of the works of John Heneage Jesse, in three-quarters, crimson crushed levant, by Riviere, and a set of the first editions of Mrs. Jameson, bound by the Club Bindery. Young's "Night Thoughts," 1797, has the illustrations by William Blake. A large lot of Cruikshanks includes Carey's "Life in Paris," 1822, in an uncut copy. Ackermann's "Abbey Church," 1812, has the fine colored plates. Matthew Arnold items include "The Strayed Reveller," of 1849, and "Empedocles on Etna," 1852, both of which were withdrawn from circulation after a few copies had been sold. Coleridge's "Sibylline Leaves," is an uncut copy presented to Henry Hope Reed, by Durwent Coleridge, and bound by Zaehnsdorf. The Combe items are the three "Tours of Dr. Syntax," bound by Zaehnsdorf, the "Dance of Life," by Sanford, and the "History of Johnny Quae Genus," by Larkins, all with the colored plates by Rowlandson. There are many Dickens items, including the "Memoirs of Joseph Grimaldi" with the Cruikshank illustrations, magnificently bound by Roger de Coverly. The French copy brought $70. The Pierce Egan's "Life in London," is bound by Tout and has the Cruikshank plates. Fitzgerald's "Rubaiyat," now of timely interest on account of the centenary of its translator, is the F. W. French copy of the third edition, which brought $80 at that sale. Its handsome binding is by Zaehnsdorf. Hamerton's "Etching and Etchers" is the first edition of 1868, with the original etchings by Haden, Palmer, Hamerton and others. The "Memoirs of Count Grammont," London, 1811, is a large paper copy with the plates all marked "proof," Smart's translation of "Gil Blas," 1807, is a beautiful clean copy, with 100 copper plates. Mrs. Oliphant's "Makers of Florence," is extra illustrated with a fine series of photographs. Rogers's "Italy" and "Poems," with the steel vignette plates, are first editions, and these copies are magnificiently bound by Cobden-Sanderson. Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," 1848, has the suppressed woodcut of the Marquis of Steyne on page 336, and is bound by Root & Son. There are two copies of Shelley's "Prometheus Unbound," both the first edition and bound by Riviere and the Hampstead Bindery respectively. Swinburne's "Atalanta and Calydon," is in an inlaid binding by Riviere, and other items in the same class are Carroll's

"Hunting of the Snark," London, 1876; Leigh Hunt's "Captain Sword and Captain Pen," London, 1835; Kingsley's "Water Babies," London, 1863, bound by the Club Bindery; Ireland's "Life of Napoleon," with the Cruikshank colored plates; Lang's St. "Andrews," on large paper; and Wordsworth's "Poems," 1807, in a contemporary binding.

AMERICAN FIRST EDITIONS.

Of American first editions there are few, but these are good items. The copy of "The Dial," Boston, 1841-44, to which Emerson, Thoreau, Channing, Lowell and others contributed, is complete, and, as it should be with the original brown wrappers. Emerson's "Society and Solitude," is a presentation copy from Emerson to E. P. Whipple, with marginal notes in pencil. A rarity, bound by Riviere is the Poems of Philip Freneau, "printed at the press of the author at Mt. Pleasant, near Middletown Point, 1795," There is a presentation copy of Hawthorne's "Biographical Stories for Children," Boston, 1842, and a copy of "The Gentle Boy," with the original paper wrappers bound in, and in immaculate condition except for a few fox marks. The Holmes items include the "Professor" with an autograph letter to E. P. Whipple, laid in. There are several Longfellow first editions and among the Lowell items are a clean copy of the Poems, 1849, unopened, and "Under the Willows," 1869, bound by Roger de Coverly, in a unique binding with an autograph inscription by the binder. This is the F. W. French copy. Other first editions in original bindings are Poe's "Al Aaraaf," 1829; Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Thoreau's "Walden" and Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

EARLY ENGLISH LITERATURE.

Early English literature was a field of collecting which appealed to Mr. Hollingsworth, and many years ago he began to gather these masterpieces. The first edition of Ben Jonson's works is in an extremely rate state, the first issue of the three parts hardly ever being found together. Collations of copies vary, this one following that given by Mr. Hazlitt in his Bibliographical Collection and Notes, second series, 1882. Sometimes a copy of the portrait by Vaughan is inserted, but does not belong to this first edition, as at the date of issue of the first part—1616—Vaughan was only seven years of age. The work was edited by Jonson himself, and among the names of the principal actors appears that of "Will: Shakespeare." John Florio's translation of Montaigne, 1603, contains the two rare leaves of "Errors and Omissions" at the end, entirely different from the one leaf of "Errors and Omissions" at the beginning. This work is of decided Shakspearean interest, as in the British Museum there is a copy bearing his autograph. It is, as has often been pointed out, the only book which we can positively say formed a part of Shakspeare's library. This copy also contains the long preliminary poem by Samuel Daniel. In such superb condition it is exceedingly valuable, a "wormed" copy, having been sold at Sotheby's for $380. Chaucer is represented by the fourth edition of his works, 1561, in black letter and bound by Bedford. This is the McKee copy, which brought $110. Dear old Burton is present in a copy of "The Anatomy of Melancholy," bound by Lortic Frères and in perfect condition. The McKee copy brought $200 and the Edwardes copy $250. Of Milton's "Paradise Lost" there is a copy of the first edition of 1668, with the fourth title-page: "Paradise Regained," 1671, the first edition with the rare license leaf before the title-page and the last leaf of errata, and "Eikonoklastes," 1649, bound by Riviere. A rare book is Michael Drayton's "Poly-Olbion," 1622, this being one of the few copies with the printed title to each part. A copy of this was sold in 1888 for $163.

A little old black letter volume printed in 1550 is "The Vision of Pierce Plowman," bound by Sanford. Sir John Hayward's "Life and Raigne of King Edward Sixt," London, 1630, has brilliant impressions of the frontispiece and the portrait of Hayward engraved by Will Pass. A famous book is Joannis Geyler's "Ship of Fools," the Milan edition of 1511, bound by Thompson. This very curious satire on the follies of the times has been eagerly sought by collectors since 1815, when Edward's copy sold for $215. Many of the humorous woodcuts have xylographic illustrations, which leads collectors of block books to admit this printed work to their "cabinets." This copy contains the life of the author, which is found in but few copies. The copy of Wither's Emblems, London, 1635, is the Brayton Ives, No. 1088. "Barclay His Argenis" is the second edition of 1636, and the "Decameron" of Boccaccio, the Italian edition of 1757, with the brilliant plates by Gravelot, Eisen, Boucher and Cochin, printed in Paris, although dated from Londra. Of Rabelais there is an Amsterdam edition of 1741, bound by Derome and bought at the Gerald E. Hart sale for $63. John Donne's "Declaration of that Paradoxe, or Thesis that Self-Homicide is not so Naturally Sin that it may never be otherwise," London, 1648, is bound by Zaehnsdorf, and his "Poems" of 1633, the French copy, has the two leaves, "The Printer to the Understanders," which are often missing.

A work which has been pronounced the "masterpiece of the eighteenth century" is Dorat's "Les Baisers," The Hague, 1770, with the Eisen vignettes and bound by Emile Rousselle. The edition of Cervantes is that printed by Joaquin Ibana, Madrid, 1780. There is a fine, clean copy of the first edition of "Gulliver's Travels," London, 1726, bound by Riviere. The Edinburgh edition of Burns's "Poems, chiefly in the Scottish Dialect," 1787, is the first Edinburgh edition. The French copy brought $80 in 1901. There are also first editions of Fielding's "Tom Jones," 1749, and Smollett's "Humphrey Clinker," 1771, the latter having the first issue of the first volume misdated 1671.

One might go on for hours describing the treasures of this library. A set of "The Portfolio," edited by Hamerton, is the finest English art periodical. An extra-illustrated copy of Scarron's "Comical Romance" on Japanese vellum is bound by Chambolle-Duru. That exquisite volume, Williams's

"Sakoontala," with its colored borders heightened with gold, is beautifully bound by Zaehnsdorf. A set of Mosher's "Bibelot" in nine volumes, is one of twelve copies on Japan vellum. Another set is the Bibliophiles Contemporains, which rarely appears in the American market, being eagerly seized by French collectors. Irving Lyons's "Colonial Furniture of New England" is now out of print and scarce. A Japanese vellum copy of Garrett's "Elizabethan Songs" is one of twenty-five so printed, extra illustrated with a water-color drawing of Windsor Castle, with thirty-three other water colors by Garrett, and bound at the Doves Bindery by Cobden Sanderson. The Vale Press Shakspeare, in thirty-nine volumes, is another worthy of note, having become scarce before the publication was finished. G. H. S.

HOLLINGSWORTH LIBRARY

BOOKS OF THE LATE AMOR L. HOLLINGSWORTH TO BE DISPERSED.

A Magnificent Collection Gathered by a Booklover—Some Notable Nuggets of New England History, Including Early Massachusetts Laws, Ranked Among the Rarest of Rare Books—Early Printing and the Classics Not Overlooked—Early Chronicles, Including the Nuremberg of 1493—Many Scarce Books in English First Editions.

The large number of books which the late Amor L. Hollingsworth of Milton, gathered in the course of a long and useful life form both a library and a collection. Mr. Hollingsworth was a collector of the same type as the late Frederick W. French, the dispersal of whose library in 1901 is one of the great milestones in the history of book auctions. But at the same time he was a reader, interested not only in the great rarities, but in literature in its broad sense, making a library for himself and those who surrounded him. Fortunately he began years ago when many of the prizes of to-day had not been locked up forever in public libraries, and after he became interested in literature and book collecting, some of the great private libraries—the Brinley, Barlow, Ives, Menzies, French, McKee and others—came into the market and afforded Mr. Hollingsworth an opportunity to enrich his library and collection with works which are the envy of the bibliophile. To his appreciation of the best in literature he added a love of fine bindings and of fine engravings. A history of the art of engraving from the earliest times to the present, illustrated by the best examples of masters, may be found in his splendid collection, now to be dispersed. Many of his books were selected with reference to this point, and while he was not an extra-illustrator in the common sense of that word, he had some magnificent books of this class. Early in his career as a collector he became affiliated with many of the best book publishing clubs, and almost up to the time of his death he retained a lively interest in the Club of Odd Volumes of this city, the Grolier Club of New York, Caxton Club of Chicago, and others. He did not neglect to obtain original issues of the most famous of modern presses and his sporting books have already been described in the Bibliographer column of the Transcript.

That this magnificent library is to be sold by auction, may come as a surprise to some, but Mr. Hollingsworth felt that as others in the family had libraries of their own, his treasures, at his death, should be dispersed in order that others might have the same opportunity he had and feel the same pleasure he felt in the acquisition of rare books offered in auction sales.

RARE AMERICANA.

This library is rich in Rare Americana, there are no less than twenty-one Mathers, for instance, with some of the great rarities. There are not only the writings of Increase, Richard, Cotton and Samuel Mather, but of Nathaniel of London, and Samuel of Dublin, sons of Richard Mather: pre-eminent among them are Increase Mather's "Kometopathi; or a Discourse Concerning Comets," Boston, 1683, bound by Riviere: Cotton Mather's "Memorable Providences Relating to Witchcrafts and Possessions," Boston 1689, and the "Magnalia Christi Americana," London, 1702, with the original map and list of books; two copies of the "Parentator," and other rare sermons and tracts, all beautifully bound. A volume which will be eagerly sought is the Massachusetts Bay Acts and Laws, 1699–1712. This is the first revision of the Province Laws, of which Ames and Goodell wrote in 1869: "The editions of 1699 and 1714 are among the rarest of rare books and the copies of them now extant are usually without the supplements."

There are certain books which may properly be described as the foundation stones of New England history. Most important collections of Americana contain one or more of them. Rarely is a library to be found which has so many as this. There is a clean and large copy of Thomas Lechford's "Plain Dealing, Or, Nevvs from New-England," written by the first lawyer in Boston, and printed in London, in 1642, beautifully bound by Riviere & Son. Le Clercq's "Nouvelle Relation," Lyons, 1692, is the Pratt copy, with four extra contemporary drawings, bound by Champs. John Josselyn's "Account of Two Voyages to New England," London, 1674, is the original edition with the license leaf. Edward Johnson's "Wonder-Working Providence," as his history of New England, printed in London, in 1654, is commonly called, is bound by Otto Zahn of Toof & Company in raspberry-colored mirror levant morocco extra with inside borders and gilt edges. There are two Jesuit Relations, original editions. One is Lallemant's, of 1648, bound by David, the Pratt copy. This rare book contains an account of Père Druillette's visit to Boston. The other is Vimont's, of 1643, bound by Riviere. A scarce work is Jonathan Parsons' "Good News from a Far Country," Portsmouth, 1756. A note by the late owner states that this was the first book printed in New Hampshire. Thomas Prince's "Chronological History of New England," Boston, 1736, is a fine copy with the list of subscribers. Samuel Hopkins' "Housatunnuk Indians" is one of the rarest works relating to New England. It is not mentioned in Fields' or Pilling's Indian bibliographies, and the last copy sold was the Balcom, which brought $78.00. This copy is in full crimson levant with inside borders by the Club Bindery.

Lescarbot's "Histoire de la Nouvelle France," Paris 1609, is the first edition with the genuine maps, bound by Chambolle Duru in full crimson crushed levant. A copy of this was recently in a New York catalogue at $335. There is an Amsterdam edition of Montanus, printed in 1675, much scarcer than the Dutch original, and containing many more plates than the Menzies copy. One of the rarest of books relating to New England history is Mason's "Brief History of the Pequot War," Boston, 1736, edited by Thomas Prince from the original manuscript of Major Mason. Mr. Hollingsworth had the Balcom copy which brought $445, and had it put in a full black crushed levant binding by the Club Bindery. Penhallow's "Indian Wars," printed by T. Fleet in 1726, is among the rarest of New England imprints. The Ives copy brought $100 and the Brinley copy $130. This copy, which has the first page of text in exact facsimile, has an autograph note of Samuel Penhallow inserted. Here is the Deane copy of Purchas' Microcosmus, London, 1619. The "Journals of Major Robert Rogers," London, 1765, is the Gerald E. Hart copy of the first edition, with the unnumbered leaf of advertisements, bound by Larkins.

James Adair's "History of the American Indians," published in London in 1775, is a fine, original copy in contemporary binding. The American Military Pocket Atlas, London, 1776, is immaculate and contains the six folding maps in perfect condition. As there were no American maps of value at the time of the Revolution, the operations of the British campaign were largely based on these, which were made by D. E. Brahm, Romans, Cook, Jackson and Collett, Major Holland and other officers. Isaac Backus's "History of New England with Particular Reference to... Baptists," printed in Boston in 1777, reprinted in Providence in 1784, is here n the original edition. Here is one of the five copies of the Cambridge, 1862, reprint of the Bay Psalm Book, printed on India paper and richly bound in full crimson crushed levant morocco, with a wide doublé of blue levant. Beverly's "History of Virginia," London, 1722, is a fine clean copy, magnificently bound by Otto Zahn in mirror brown levant morocco. Pishey Thompson's "History and Antiquities of Boston," relates to "our old home," and is an uncut copy. Charlevoix's "Journal of a Voyage to North America" is the English edition of 1761, with the folded map untorn. Colden's "Five Indian Nations" is the original London edition of 1747. Drayton's "Memoirs of the American Revolution," Charleston, 1821, is a clean, uncut copy with a rare portrait of the author inserted. Esquemeling's "Bucaniers of America," London, 1684-85, is the Barlow copy with a fine impression of the portrait of Sir Henry Morgan, often missing. Gordon's "History . . . of the Independence of the United States of America," London, 1788, is the original edition. Heath's "Life of a Soldier," London, 1823, is a fine clean copy, one of the rarest of colored-plate books. No copy has appeared in this country at auction for many years. There is a copy of the rare Paris issue of Thomas Jefferson's "Notes on the State of Virginia," 1782, it is the C. Fiske Harris copy, bought by Sabin for him in 1873, for $85. Captain John Knox's "Historical Journal of the Campaigns in North America," London, 1769, is complete with the map and portraits of Wolfe and Amherst. Captain Bernard Roman's "East and West Florida," New York, 1775, is complete as published; with six engraved plates by the author, inscribed to "Honble John Hancock, Esqr. for Harvard College." A "Topographical Description of the State of Ohio," Boston, 1812, has the plate engraved by Carter, showing Cincinnati as a hamlet of about forty houses and one church. The Hollingsworth copy of the "Narrative of Lieutenant-Gen. Sir John Clinton," London, 1783, is extra illustrated by the insertion of thirteen plates and portraits including an etched portrait of Washington, mezzotint of Lafayette and Sir Henry Clinton by Bartolozzi.

Tracts and pamphlets of historical interest are many. The Deane copy of Rev. William Hubbard's election sermon, May 3, 1675, found its way into this library. This is one of the early books printed by John Foster, the first printer of Boston. He printed two in 1675, and four in 1676, two of them after this one. Mary Rowlandson's Narrative, Boston, 1720, is handsomely bound by Riviere. John Norton's "Abel Being Dead Yet Speaketh," London, 1658, is the life of the most eminent New England clergyman of his time (John Cotton) by his successor in position and influence. A very rare tract is Samuel Willard's "Ne Sutor Ultra Crepidam," Boston, 1681, written in reply to Russel's "Brief Narrative." Of association interest is Bishop Burnet's sermon, S. Green, Boston, 1689, with the autograph of Thomas Prince. A fine copy of Tate and Brady's Psalms, Boston, 1754, with sixteen pages of engraved music is an edition not mentioned by O'Callaghan or Wright. The London, 1604, edition of "The Whole Booke of Psalms," a predecessor of the Bay Psalm Book, has the music printed throughout the text. So many are the scarce volumes in the department of Americana that mention can only be made by title of:

Talifer's "Georgia," Charles-Town, 1741, original edition; Hazard's "Historical Collections," Philadelphia, 1792-94; the Hutchinson and Oliver Letters, Edes & Gill, 1773; Heriot's "Travels Through the Canadas," London, 1807; Hayward's "Tennessee," Knoxville, 1823; Keith's "History of the British Plantations in America," London, 1738; Experience Mayhew's "Indian Converts," London, 1727; Proud's "History of Pennsylvania," 1797; Smith's "History of Nova Cæsaria," Burlington, 1765; C. Stedman's "American War," London, 1794, exceptionally fine; Trumbull's "Connecticut," New Haven, 1818; Vincent's "Delaware," Philadelphia, 1870; and Young's "Chronicles," both of the Pilgrim Fathers and First Planters, Boston, 1841–46.

EARLY PRINTED AND ILLUSTRATED BOOKS.

Early printing and the classics have not been overlooked in this magnificent library. A small quarto in old Italian boards Bartolomeo of Cremona, 1472, has a fine illuminated initial. The publisher was Nicolao Truno of Venice, and this was Bartolomeo's first book (Proctor 4221: Coppinger 4426). One of the choicest specimens of Erhart Ratdolt's press, printed at Augsburg in 1490 is Publicius' "Ars Oratoria Ars Epistolandi," a very rare work in black letter, with curious woodcuts, to which Dibdin devoted fourteen pages of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana. A curious book of emblems with plates by Johannes Theodori de Bry, 1617, has fifty plates and fifty fugues with music. This is a fine copy of an excessively rare alchemical work, from the Brayton Ives collection (No. 613). Among the classics are the Amsterdam edition of Lucretius, 1754, with brilliant impressions of the Eisen plates and bound by Chambolle-Duru; Ovid's Metamorphoses with the Eisen plates printed in Paris in 1767; Tasso's "Jerusalem Delivered," with Le Roy's plates, printed at Paris in 1771, and Ariosto's "Orlando Furioso," Venice, 1584, with brilliant impressions of the numerous copper plates and in a most magnificent binding by Chambolle-Duru. "Clio and Euterpe," London, 1762, is a fine copy of an exceedingly rare book of engraved songs. A Book of Hours printed on vellum in Gothic type, with the calendar, is the Dawson Turner copy of Simon à Voste, Paris, 1498. There are many fine and curious designs in the borders.

RARE CHRONICLES.

In early chronicles the library is rich. One of the greatest rarity is the black letter edition of Froissart's "Chronycles of Englande," etc., printed by William Myddleton and Rycharde Pynson, 1525. The Perkins copy of this rarity brought $480 and the Corser copy $475. A very rare chronicle is Bossiana's, printed at Milan in 1492, and bound in morocco extra by Bedford. Pickering's reprint of the Chronicle of Master Wace, London, 1837, bound by Riviere, has a duplicate set of fifty colored plates inserted. Cooper's Chronicle, in black letter, printed at London in 1560, gives the credit for the foundation of printing to Faust. The Hollingsworth copy is bound by Bedford in full antique crushed levant, blind and gold-tooled in panels, gilt on rough edges. The gem of the collection in this line, however, is a fine copy of the Nuremburg Chronicle of 1493, in the original oak boards, covered with stamped pigskin, with clasps. This has not only the scarce map at the end, but the cut of Pope Joan and her baby, generally either destroyed by cutting out or by erasure. This German edition is the great picture book of the Middle Ages, with 2250 woodcuts by Wolgemuth and Pleydenwuff. This was the Gerald E. Hart copy.

ENGLISH FIRST EDITIONS.

In English first editions the gem is undoubtedly the copy of "The Germ," that short-lived organ of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood issued in London in 1859, to the four numbers of which Dante Gabriel Rossetti contributed his first writings. William P. Rossetti was the editor and Christina Rossetti, Ford Madox Brown, Coventry Patmore and others were contributors. The Hollingsworth copy is the original issue with all the covers and advertisements bound in. It was bound by Cobden-Sanderson at the Doves Bindery, in olive green morocco, tooled with lilies, full gilt back, gilt on uncut leaves. The French copy in parts, with Rossetti's autograph, brought $975 in 1901. There is a fine line of Charles Lamb items. including an exceptionally tall copy of the "Tales from Shakspeare," beautifully bound by Zaehnsdorf, in green crushed levant extra, inside gold borders, with gilt edges. Fine copies are exceeding rare, and the French copy brought $300. There is a collected set of the works of John Heneage Jesse, in three-quarters, crimson crushed levant, by Riviere, and a set of the first editions of Mrs. Jameson, bound by the Club Bindery. Young's "Night Thoughts," 1797, has the illustrations by William Blake. A large lot of Cruikshanks includes Carey's "Life in Paris," 1822, in an uncut copy. Ackermann's "Abbey Church," 1812, has the fine colored plates. Matthew Arnold items include "The Strayed Reveller," of 1849, and "Empedocles on Etna," 1852, both of which were withdrawn from circulation after a few copies had been sold. Coleridge's "Sibylline Leaves," is an uncut copy presented to Henry Hope Reed, by Durwent Coleridge, and bound by Zaehnsdorf. The Combe items are the three "Tours of Dr. Syntax," bound by Zaehnsdorf, the "Dance of Life," by Sanford, and the "History of Johnny Quae Genus," by Larkins, all with the colored plates by Rowlandson. There are many Dickens items, including the "Memoirs of Joseph Grimaldi" with the Cruikshank illustrations, magnificently bound by Roger de Coverly. The French copy brought $70. The Pierce Egan's "Life in London," is bound by Tout and has the Cruikshank plates. Fitzgerald's "Rubaiyat," now of timely interest on account of the centenary of its translator, is the F. W. French copy of the third edition, which brought $80 at that sale. Its handsome binding is by Zaehnsdorf. Hamerton's "Etching and Etchers" is the first edition of 1868, with the original etchings by Haden, Palmer, Hamerton and others. The "Memoirs of Count Grammont," London, 1811, is a large paper copy with the plates all marked "proof," Smart's translation of "Gil Blas," 1807, is a beautiful clean copy, with 100 copper plates. Mrs. Oliphant's "Makers of Florence," is extra illustrated with a fine series of photographs. Rogers's "Italy" and "Poems," with the steel vignette plates, are first editions, and these copies are magnificiently bound by Cobden-Sanderson. Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," 1848, has the suppressed woodcut of the Marquis of Steyne on page 336, and is bound by Root & Son. There are two copies of Shelley's "Prometheus Unbound," both the first edition and bound by Riviere and the Hampstead Bindery respectively. Swinburne's "Atalanta and Calydon," is in an inlaid binding by Riviere, and other items in the same class are Carroll's

"Hunting of the Snark," London, 1876; Leigh Hunt's "Captain Sword and Captain Pen," London, 1835; Kingsley's "Water Babies," London, 1863, bound by the Club Bindery; Ireland's "Life of Napoleon," with the Cruikshank colored plates; Lang's St. "Andrews," on large paper; and Wordsworth's "Poems," 1807, in a contemporary binding.

AMERICAN FIRST EDITIONS.

Of American first editions there are few, but these are good items. The copy of "The Dial," Boston, 1841-44, to which Emerson, Thoreau, Channing, Lowell and others contributed, is complete, and, as it should be with the original brown wrappers. Emerson's "Society and Solitude," is a presentation copy from Emerson to E. P. Whipple, with marginal notes in pencil. A rarity, bound by Riviere is the Poems of Philip Freneau, "printed at the press of the author at Mt. Pleasant, near Middletown Point, 1795," There is a presentation copy of Hawthorne's "Biographical Stories for Children," Boston, 1842, and a copy of "The Gentle Boy," with the original paper wrappers bound in, and in immaculate condition except for a few fox marks. The Holmes items include the "Professor" with an autograph letter to E. P. Whipple, laid in. There are several Longfellow first editions and among the Lowell items are a clean copy of the Poems, 1849, unopened, and "Under the Willows," 1869, bound by Roger de Coverly, in a unique binding with an autograph inscription by the binder. This is the F. W. French copy. Other first editions in original bindings are Poe's "Al Aaraaf," 1829; Mrs. Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Thoreau's "Walden" and Whitman's "Leaves of Grass."

EARLY ENGLISH LITERATURE.

Early English literature was a field of collecting which appealed to Mr. Hollingsworth, and many years ago he began to gather these masterpieces. The first edition of Ben Jonson's works is in an extremely rate state, the first issue of the three parts hardly ever being found together. Collations of copies vary, this one following that given by Mr. Hazlitt in his Bibliographical Collection and Notes, second series, 1882. Sometimes a copy of the portrait by Vaughan is inserted, but does not belong to this first edition, as at the date of issue of the first part—1616—Vaughan was only seven years of age. The work was edited by Jonson himself, and among the names of the principal actors appears that of "Will: Shakespeare." John Florio's translation of Montaigne, 1603, contains the two rare leaves of "Errors and Omissions" at the end, entirely different from the one leaf of "Errors and Omissions" at the beginning. This work is of decided Shakspearean interest, as in the British Museum there is a copy bearing his autograph. It is, as has often been pointed out, the only book which we can positively say formed a part of Shakspeare's library. This copy also contains the long preliminary poem by Samuel Daniel. In such superb condition it is exceedingly valuable, a "wormed" copy, having been sold at Sotheby's for $380. Chaucer is represented by the fourth edition of his works, 1561, in black letter and bound by Bedford. This is the McKee copy, which brought $110. Dear old Burton is present in a copy of "The Anatomy of Melancholy," bound by Lortic Frères and in perfect condition. The McKee copy brought $200 and the Edwardes copy $250. Of Milton's "Paradise Lost" there is a copy of the first edition of 1668, with the fourth title-page: "Paradise Regained," 1671, the first edition with the rare license leaf before the title-page and the last leaf of errata, and "Eikonoklastes," 1649, bound by Riviere. A rare book is Michael Drayton's "Poly-Olbion," 1622, this being one of the few copies with the printed title to each part. A copy of this was sold in 1888 for $163.

A little old black letter volume printed in 1550 is "The Vision of Pierce Plowman," bound by Sanford. Sir John Hayward's "Life and Raigne of King Edward Sixt," London, 1630, has brilliant impressions of the frontispiece and the portrait of Hayward engraved by Will Pass. A famous book is Joannis Geyler's "Ship of Fools," the Milan edition of 1511, bound by Thompson. This very curious satire on the follies of the times has been eagerly sought by collectors since 1815, when Edward's copy sold for $215. Many of the humorous woodcuts have xylographic illustrations, which leads collectors of block books to admit this printed work to their "cabinets." This copy contains the life of the author, which is found in but few copies. The copy of Wither's Emblems, London, 1635, is the Brayton Ives, No. 1088. "Barclay His Argenis" is the second edition of 1636, and the "Decameron" of Boccaccio, the Italian edition of 1757, with the brilliant plates by Gravelot, Eisen, Boucher and Cochin, printed in Paris, although dated from Londra. Of Rabelais there is an Amsterdam edition of 1741, bound by Derome and bought at the Gerald E. Hart sale for $63. John Donne's "Declaration of that Paradoxe, or Thesis that Self-Homicide is not so Naturally Sin that it may never be otherwise," London, 1648, is bound by Zaehnsdorf, and his "Poems" of 1633, the French copy, has the two leaves, "The Printer to the Understanders," which are often missing.

A work which has been pronounced the "masterpiece of the eighteenth century" is Dorat's "Les Baisers," The Hague, 1770, with the Eisen vignettes and bound by Emile Rousselle. The edition of Cervantes is that printed by Joaquin Ibana, Madrid, 1780. There is a fine, clean copy of the first edition of "Gulliver's Travels," London, 1726, bound by Riviere. The Edinburgh edition of Burns's "Poems, chiefly in the Scottish Dialect," 1787, is the first Edinburgh edition. The French copy brought $80 in 1901. There are also first editions of Fielding's "Tom Jones," 1749, and Smollett's "Humphrey Clinker," 1771, the latter having the first issue of the first volume misdated 1671.

One might go on for hours describing the treasures of this library. A set of "The Portfolio," edited by Hamerton, is the finest English art periodical. An extra-illustrated copy of Scarron's "Comical Romance" on Japanese vellum is bound by Chambolle-Duru. That exquisite volume, Williams's

"Sakoontala," with its colored borders heightened with gold, is beautifully bound by Zaehnsdorf. A set of Mosher's "Bibelot" in nine volumes, is one of twelve copies on Japan vellum. Another set is the Bibliophiles Contemporains, which rarely appears in the American market, being eagerly seized by French collectors. Irving Lyons's "Colonial Furniture of New England" is now out of print and scarce. A Japanese vellum copy of Garrett's "Elizabethan Songs" is one of twenty-five so printed, extra illustrated with a water-color drawing of Windsor Castle, with thirty-three other water colors by Garrett, and bound at the Doves Bindery by Cobden Sanderson. The Vale Press Shakspeare, in thirty-nine volumes, is another worthy of note, having become scarce before the publication was finished. G. H. S.

BARCLAY'S SHIP OF FOOLS.

98 BARCLAY, ALEX. The Ship of Fools. Translated by Alexander Barclay, (Sebastian Brandt). Numerous illustrations. Together with the life and writings of Alexander Barclay, with a bibliography of his works. 2 vols. 4° full calf, gilt backs, uncut, gilt tops.

William Patterson: Edinburgh, 1874

The design of this curious and amusing work was to ridicule the prevailing follies and vices of every rank and profession, under the allegory of a ship freighted with fools; and in this metrical translation Barclay has given a variety of characters drawn expressly from his own countrymen, and added his advice to the various fools, which possess at least the merit of good sense and morality.

The Ship of Fooles may almost be reckoned amongst our book of emblems, or works illustrated with engravings. It was formerly held in high estimation and was one of the most popular works of the age.

Reprinted by Thomas and John Fleet, at the Bible and Heart, in Cornhill, 1780

[Collation] (Introduction) pp. 90; Vol. 1, pp. 381, 34; Vol. 2, pp. 84, 4.

Extremely scarce. Mr. Joseph Sabin in his note on the Menzies copy, which sold for $60, says "a complete set of one of the scarcest works in this collection. We know of no other complete set in any of our public or private libraries." Prof. William Smyth, of Harvard University, says, "it contains, in the most concise form, the most able, impartial, and authentic history of the dispute which can be found. The account is understood to have been drawn up by Burke, and if so (and there is no doubt of it), the arguments on each side are displayed with an impartiality that is quite admirable."

Hoffman copy brought $75. Hunt copy $62.50.

450 DANCE OF DEATH. Les Images de la Mort, aux quelles sont adiousteés douze figures. Davantage, la Médecine de l'Ame, la consolation des Malades, un Sermon de Mortalité, etc. A la fin: Imprimé à Lyon a l'escu de Coloigne, par Jehan Frellon, 1547, with 53 woodcuts by Holbein. 12° full crimson levant morocco, elegant binding by BRADSTREET. Lyons, 1547

This is the first edition containing 53 cuts, the earlier ones having but 41, being very fine impressions from the genuine blocks, and equally well printed, if not surpassing the first issue by the Treschsels in 1538, it is a very desirable example. Most of the modern bibliographers have made use of this issue in reproducing facsimiles. Very rare, original impressions.

George E. Sears copy, with his Dance of Death book-plate.

451 DANCE OF DEATH. Merian, M. Todten-Tantz, wie derselbe in der loblichen in der weitberühmpten Stadt Basel als ein Spiegel Menslicher Beschaffnheit ganz künstlich gemahlet zu sehen ist, etc. Nach dem Original in Kupffer gebracht und heraus durch Matth. Merians sel Erben. Engraved title and 42 copper-plates of the Basle Dance of Death. Small 4° half green morocco, gilt edges. Franckfurt, 1696

Second issue of Merian's plates made from copies of the old paintings in Basle early in the 17th Century. Douce pronounces them the most complete and perfect of any. In this issue the text is entirely in German, with fine, clear impressions of the copper-plates.

452 DANCE OF DEATH. Rusting, Salomon van. Schau-Platz des Todes, oder Todten-Tanz, in Kupffern und Versen vorgetsellet. . . . In Hoch-Teutschen, mit nothigen Anmerckungen herausgegeben von J. G. Meintel. Thirty engravings on copper. Small 8° black calf, extra, gilt back and emblematic tooling. Nurnberg, 1736

Tall, perfect copy. Frontispiece and 30 fine original copper-plates.

Plates of the King—Astrologer—Soldier—Monk—Old Man—Pedler, are copied from the Holbein designs. All the others are new and some very spirited, the first part contains scenes from the Bible, in all of which Death is introduced in curious and grotesque positions.

These designs first appeared in a work issued at Amsterdam in 1707. See Douce, pp. 131–132.

453 DANCE OF DEATH. Meyers. Die Menschliche Sterblichkeit unter dem Titel Todten-Tanz, in LXI. Original-Kupffern, von Rudolf und Conrad Meyern. 4° full antique crushed levant morocco, Janseniste, wide inside gold borders, gilt edges, by EMILE ROUSSELLE. Hamburg, 1759

Francofurti and Moenvm, Typis Ioannis Wecheli, Sumptibvs Vero Theodori De Bry, Anno, 1590

A fine large copy, of the first edition, with brilliant impressions of the plates. Equally as rare as the French edition.

One of the rarest books relating to Virginia. It gives an account of the first settlement made by Englishmen within the limits of the United States, and the earliest accounts of the Indians of the central portion of the Atlantic Seaboard. The wonderfully life-like plates engraved by De Bry, after the original water-color drawings by John White, are the earliest representations in any book of the customs of the Indians of the regions.

The book was issued in four languages, French, English, Latin and German. The French edition, edited March 24, 1590, the English and Latin editions edited April 1st, and the German edition April 3d. Dodd, Mead, in one of their catalogues, April 1908, priced the French edition, an imperfect copy with one of the engraved plates and page of text supplied from the Latin edition, at $1080.00.

582 EMBLEMS OF MORTALITY; representing by numerous engravings, Death seizing all ranks and conditions of people. Imitated from a painting in the cemetery of the Dominican Church at Basil, in Switzerland, with an apostrophe to each translation from the Latin, to which is now added for the first time a particular description of each cut or engraving. By J. W. Barber. Woodcuts by Alexander Anderson. 16° full brown crushed levant morocco, uncut, gilt back, sides and top, inside gold borders, by SANFORD.

Charleston, 1846

Fine clean, uncut copy, beautifully bound.

583 EMBLEMS. Alciati. Emblemata Andreæ Alciati Iurisconsulti Clarissmi. (Roville's Device on title page.) Engraved borders and numerous woodcuts in the text. 8° full brown crushed levant morocco, Janseniste, wide gold borders, gilt edges, by THIBARON.

Apud Gulielmum Roullium: Lugduni, 1548

A new arrangement of the emblems has here been introduced. It seems probable that it was first formed by Aneau for this 1548 edition, but in the French version, 1549, it will be seen completely developed, and with a few slight changes it was soon very generally adopted. The wood engravings, entirely new in 1548, with editions as they could be prepared, have served for the whole series of editions, Latin, French, Spanish and Italian, which Roville and Bonhomme issued from 1548 to 1566.

584 EMBLEMS. Alciati. Emblemata D. A. Alciati, denno ab ipfo Autore recognita, ac, quæ desidera bantur, imaginibus locupletata. With Roville's device on title-page. Small 8° full crimson crushed levant morocco, extra, gilt back, wide gold borders on sides, inside gold borders.

Fine, clean copy, with 211 woodcuts, together with the usual emblematic portrait of Roville's Editions.

585 EMBLEMS. Alciati. Diverse Impresse Accomodate a diuerse moralità, con versi che i loro significati di chiarano; Tratte da gli Emblemi dell' Alciato. Roville's device, the Eagle and the Serpent. The title within a border of allegorical figures. To each page there is a border richly ornamented. 12° full crimson crushed levant morocco, extra, inside gold borders, gilt edges, by BELZ-NIEDRÉ.

In Lione da Gulielmo Rovillio, 1549

Title, within an engraved monumental border of allegorical figures. There are 136 emblems including the trees. There is no Latin text, but mottoes and stanzas all in Italian. Every page is within a fine border.

The devices from blocks, independent of the borders, are 136 in number and claim the same parentage as the others of the Rovillian series, namely, Le Petit Bernard.

Second edition of the Italian version. A superb copy and very rare. The wood engravings, which are beautifully executed, are signed P. V.

586 EMBLEMS. ALCIATI. Andrea Alciati and his Book of Emblems; a biographical and bibliographical study. By Henry Green. Illustrations. 8° cloth, uncut.

588 EMBLEMS. Bocchi, Achille. Symbolicarum Questionum de universo genere quas serio ludebat, libri quinque. Small 4° light brown crushed levant morocco, extra, blind and gold tooled, gilt edges, by F. BEDFORD. Bononiæ, 1555

Five years after the death of Alciati, a most beautiful book of emblems was presented to the world by another eminent Italian scholar, Achille Bocchi, commonly called Philerote. The copper-plates comparatively of a large size, are engraved by the celebrated artist Gullio Bonasone after designs partly by himself and partly by Bocchi, aided by Parmigiano and Prospero Fontana, many ideas being taken from Michael Angelo and Albert Durer. A second edition was published in 1574, with the plates retouched. Both editions are scarce and much prized. Magnificent tall copy, with brilliant impressions of the plates.

PRESENTATION copy from Bocchi, with a full page inscription on the reverse of the dedication page, together with 6 original pen and ink drawings by Bocchi added at the end.

589 EMBLEMS. Bocchius, Achilles. Symbolicarum quæstionum, de universo genere, quas serio ludebat libri quinque. Numerous copper-plates printed in the text after designs by Raphaelli, Parmegiano and others. Small 4° dark morocco, extra, gilt back, inside gold borders, gilt edges.

Bononiæ, 1574

HAMOR'S VIRGINIA.

916 [HULSIUS. VOYAGES. Part 13 in German.] Dreyzehente Schiffahrt, etc. Ralphe Hamor's account of Virginia. Engraving on title and 4 plates. Small 4° crimson morocco, extra, gilt back and edges, by F. BEDFORD.

Hanaw, 1617

The events related in this part contain valuable materials for the History of the Settlement of Virginia. In 1583 the name of Virginia had been bestowed by Queen Elizabeth upon that part of the Continent of America, with which the name and fame of Sir Walter Raleigh is so intimately connected. The colony, planted by his exertions, had to struggle with innumerable difficulties, which rose to such magnitude that in May 1610 it was resolved to abandon the settlement, a resolution which but for the interference of Lord Delaware would have been adopted. "By an assiduous attention to his duty, and a happy union of qualities fitted equally to inspire esteem and command submission, Lord Delaware succeeded in maintaining peace and good order in the Settlement,—in awakening a spirit of industry and alacrity among the Colonists."—Asher.

KELMSCOTT PRESS PUBLICATIONS.

The Press is now entirely stopped, and the whole of the wood blocks sent to the British Museum, under the condition that they shall not be used for the space of 100 years. This proviso, and the fact of the master-mind and also one of his most able illustrators (the late Sir E. Burne-Jones) having passed away, will make the volumes issued by Morris extremely valuable. Already many of the works have increased in value and are much sought for.

These publications are the most magnificent specimens of the typographic art that any country has ever produced, and stand for all that is luxurious, artistic and beautiful.

988 MORRIS, WILLIAM. The Story of the Glittering Plain, or the Land of Living Men. Written by William Morris and ornamented with 23 pictures by Walter Crane, and initial letters from designs by William Morris. Small 4° vellum, uncut. Kelmscott Press, 1891

A PIGSKIN CHAUCER BY COBDEN-SANDERSON.

1026 CHAUCER. The Works of Geoffrey Chaucer. Edited by F. S. Ellis. Illustrated with eighty-seven engravings designed by Sir Edward Burne-Jones, and engraved by W. H. Hooper. Woodcut title, fourteen large borders, eighteen different frames around the illustrations and twenty-six large initial words designed by William Morris especially for this work. Folio, full white pigskin binding, embossed with designs by William Morris, brass clasps, edges gilt in rough, at the DOVES BINDERY, COBDEN-SANDERSON.

Kelmscott Press, 1896

This is one of forty-eight copies bound in white pigskin, at the Doves Bindery, by Cobden-Sanderson, from the designs of William Morris.

The most important work issued by the Kelmscott Press, and the master-piece of the nineteenth century.

The edition was quickly subscribed for and is now much sought after by collectors.

Only 425 copies printed and issued to subscribers at £20. each. The Pierce copy bound in pigskin like the above brought $875. Years before its publication Mr. Morris had mentally projected an edition of Chaucer, which he hoped to produce in black letter type of special design. The earlier announcement stated that the work would contain about 60 designs by Sir E. Burne-Jones, and that the issue would be 325 copies, but later a circular was issued to the effect that the number of illustrations would be increased, and 100 copies added to the issue. This circular gave subscribers the option of cancelling their orders, but orders were not withdrawn, and the extra 100 copies were taken up immediately.

ONLY 250 copies printed.

1028 ELLIS. The Floure and the Leafe; and The Boke of Cupid, God of Love, or the Cuckow and the Nightingale. Edited by F. S. Ellis. Printed in the Troy type, in red and black, with note and colophon in Chaucer-type. Royal 8° boards, uncut. Kelmscott Press, 1896

ONLY 300 copies printed.

Two of the initial words from the Chaucer are used in this volume, one at the beginning of each poem. The poems were formerly attributed to Chaucer, but later scholarship has proved otherwise.

1029 SPENSER, EDMUND. The Shepheardes Calender, conteyning twelve Æglogues, proportionable to the twelve monethes. Illustrated by A. J. Gaskin with exquisite wood-cuts. Royal 8° boards, uncut. Kelmscott Press, 1896

ONLY 225 copies printed.

The illustrations were printed from process blocks by Messrs. Walker and Boutall. By a most unusual oversight in connection with Kelmscott publications, the names of author, editor and artist were omitted in printing the colophon.

1030 COLERIDGE. Poems chosen out of the the Works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge. Edited by F. S. Ellis. Printed in Golden type, in red and black, with wood-cut title and border. 8° full antique crushed levant morocco, beautifully tooled with blind and gold tooling, covered with gold dots, uncut, gilt top, bound by RIVIERE & SON. 2 specimen pages of the projected edition of Froissart's Chronicle. Folio, sheet.

Printed on Vellum, only 160 so printed and none printed on paper.

With special armorial border and ornaments designed by William Morris, printed in red and black in the Chaucer type.

The work was intended to be the best and most elaborate of all the works of William Morris but never printed on account of his death.

1039 MORRIS, WILLIAM. Love is Enough; or, the Freeing of Pharamond. With borders and 2 illustrations designed by Sir E. Burne-Jones. Printed in Troy type, in black, red and blue. Small folio, vellum, uncut.

Kelmscott Press, 1897

ONLY 300 copies printed.

This was the second book printed at the Kelmscott Press in three colors. As explained in the colophon, the final picture was not originally intended for this edition.

1040 MORRIS, WILLIAM. Story of Sigurd the Volsung and the Fall of Niblungs. With two pictures designed by Sir E. Burne-Jones and engraved by W. H. Hooper, with wood-cut ornaments and initial letters. Printed in red and black. Small folio, vellum, uncut. Kelmscott Press, 1898

Only 160 copies printed.

1041 MORRIS, WILLIAM. Note by William Morris on his Aims in Founding the Press. With a short description of the Press by S. C. Cockerell, and an annotated list of the books printed thereat. Printed in red and black. 8° boards, uncut. Kelmscott Press, 1898

Of the utmost importance to every collector of Kelmscott books. It contains faithful and exact particulars of every book issued, the type in which printed, special notes on the borders, initial letters and illustrations, dates of publication, number of copies printed on paper and vellum. A complete Bibliography, for exactness of detail never surpassed, if ever equalled.

Sold by J. Tonson in the Strand & I. Faber at the Golden Head in Bloomsbury Sq.: London 1735

ORIGINAL EDITION. With brilliant impressions of the mezzotint portraits. Copies of this work are of extreme rarity, nearly all of the copies having been broken up for the portraits. Nearly every portrait in the work is worthy of framing separately, having full margins and in original untrimmed and unwashed condition.

We cannot find a record of another copy as fine as this sold in the last 20 years.

The biographies of the members of the Kit-Cat Club fill up a wide gap in the history of England in the 18th Century. All the portraits are guaranteed likenesses of the most eminent political and literary persons of that time.

The celebrated Association called the Kit-Cat Club was instituted about the year 1700, and consisted of the principal noblemen and gentry who opposed the arbitrary measures of James the Second and conduced to bring about the Revolution of 1688.

"The Kit-Cat Club, generally mentioned as a series of wits, were, in reality, the Patriots that saved Britain."—Horace Walpole.

Contains portraits of Sir Godfrey Kneller;—Charles Seymour, Duke of Somerset;—Charles Lenox, Duke of Richmond;—Charles Fitzroy, Duke of Grafton;—William Cavendish, Duke of Devonshire;—John Churchill, Duke of Marlborough;—John Montague, Duke of Montague;—Evelyn Pierpoint, Duke of Kingston;—Thomas Holles Pelham, Duke of Newcastle;—Henry Clinton, Earl of Lincoln;—Charles Montague, Duke of Manchester;—Lionel Cranfield Sackville, Duke of Dorset;—Thomas Wharton, Marquis of Wharton;—Theophilus Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon;—Charles Sackville, Earl of Dorset Algernon Capel, Earl of Essex;—Charles Howard, Earl of Carlisle;—Richard Boyle, Earl of Burlington;—James Berkeley, Earl of Berkeley;—Richard Lumley, Earl of Scarborough;—Francis Godolphin, Earl of Godolphin;—Charles Montague, Earl of Halifax;—James Stanhope, Earl of Stanhope;—Spencer Compton, Earl of Wilmington;—Richard Temple, Viscount Cobham;—Charles, Lord Mohun;—Charles Cornwallis, Lord Cornwallis;—John Vaughan, Earl of Carberry;—John Somers, Baron of Evesham;—Richard Boyle, Viscount Stannon;—Robert Walpole, Earl of Orford;—Sir John Vanbrugh;—Sir Samuel Garth;—Sir Richard Steele;—John Tidcomb, Esq.;—William Pulteney, Earl of Bath;—Joseph Addison, Esq.;—George Stepney, Esq.;—Abraham Stanyan, Esq.;—John Dormer, Esq.;—Edmund Dunch, Esq.;—William Walsh, Esq.;—William Congreve, Esq.;—Charles Dartiquenave, Esq.;—Thomas Hopkins, Esq.;—Edward Hopkins, Esq.;—Arthur Maynwaring, Esq.;—Jacob Tonson, the Bookseller.

FINE MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM.

1195 MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM. Oraciones a la Virgen. Horæ Beatæ Virginis, cum Calendario. A Manuscript of the French school, written on 284 leaves of very fine vellum, with 13 large and 28 small miniatures, numerous illuminated borders and initials. Square 12° calf, gilt edges (size 4½ x 5½ in). Sæc, XIV

A valuable example of the French School of the fourteenth century with 13 full page and 28 small miniatures, 27 very elaborate grotesque borders besides numerous illuminated borders of the floriated pattern and hundreds of illuminated initials and finial bars.

The large miniatures are of beautiful execution, with carefully finished details, with landscape, architectural or chess board back ground; the smaller miniatures are introduced in the borders and consist of subject mostly from the old Testament.

The borders which are unusually elaborate, are a combination of floriated and scroll work, richly dotted with burnished gold, and contain an immense variety of grotesque figures, monsters, nondescripts, animals, etc.

Among the large Miniatures are: The Annunciation, Crucifixion, Visitation of Elizabeth, Descent of the Holy Ghost, Adoration of Joseph and Mary, Annuciation to the Shepherds, Circumcision, Slaughter of the Innocents, Virgin and Child, Judgment of Solomon, etc.

The borders in the above Manuscript are good specimens of the epoch characterized by the burlesque celebrations, feasts of fools, etc., inside the church and the grotesque carvings on the outside; the miniatures (see face of Christ and Apostles) are productions of the best art of the period.

1280 MONSTER OF MONSTERS (THE). A true and faithful narrative of a most remarkable Phænomenon lately seen in this Metropolis; to the great surprise and terror of His Majesty's Good Subjects. Humbly dedicated to all the Virtuosi of New England. By Thomas Thumb, Esq., pp. 24. 12° full brown morocco (title mounted).

Printed in July, 1754

A beautiful copy of this very rare tract, which gave such offense to the legislature of Massachusetts that it was ordered to be burnt by the common hangman, and Daniel Fowle, suspected of having printed it, was arrested and imprisoned. See Thomas's History of Printing, I. 333–339. It gives a satirical account of the debate on the Excise Bill, in the Council, after its passage by the house. The reputed author was Samuel Waterhouse. Mr. Sabin (Dictionary, No. 12982) says: "Of this work . . . not more than three or four copies are known, to have escaped the fire to which is was condemned by the General Court."

JOYFULL NEWES, ORIGINAL EDITION, 1596.

1281 [MONARDES, N.] Joyfull Newes out of the New-found Worlde, wherein are declared the rare and singular Vertues of Divers Herbs, Trees, Planets, Oyles and Stones, Englished from the Spanish by John Frampton; newly corrected, with a Treatise of the Bezaar Stone, the Herb Escuerconera; the properties of Iron and Steele in Medicine, and the benefit of Snow. Black Letter, with woodcuts in text. Small 4° blue morocco, gilt back, sides and edges.

London, 1596

This rare and curious volume is dedicated "To the right worshipfull Mayster Edwarde Dier, Esquier." "It might," says the translator, "bring in tyme rare profite to my Country Folkes of Englande by wonderfull cures of sundry greate diseases that otherwise than by these remedies, were incurable." Tobaco, he declares, "the chiefest among other medicinall hearbes."

The E. A. Crowninshield copy, in fine, sound condition.

FLORIO'S MONTAIGNE, ORIGINAL EDITION, 1603

1281A MONTAIGNE, MICHAELL DE. The Essayes; or, Morall, Politike and Millitarie Discourses of Lo: Michaell de Montaigne . . . first writen by him in French and now done into English by * * * * * JOHN FLORIO. Folio, full green crushed levant morocco, gilt edges, by RIVIERE & SON. Lond.: Val. Sims for Edward Blount, 1603

It contains the two exceedingly rare leaves of "Errors and Omissions" at the end, entirely different from the one leaf of "Errors and Omissions" at the beginning. This is the FIRST, and is known as the "SHAKESPEARE EDITION," from the fact that in the British Museum is preserved a copy bearing the autograph of Shakespeare. It is, as often pointed out, the only book of which we can certainly say that it formed part of Shakespeare's library. The present copy also contains the long preliminary poem by Samuel Daniel.

In such superb state as the above, this edition is of very great scarcity, and an apparently poorer copy, described as "wormed," sold at Sotheby's in 1901 for £76. Leffert's copy. $355.00.

IOYFVLL NEWES Out of the New-found VVorlde.

Wherein are declared, the rare and ſinguler vertues of diuers Herbs, Trees, Plantes, Oyles & Stones, with their applications, aſwell to the vſe of Phiſicke, as of Chirurgery: which being well applyed, bring ſuch preſent remedie for all diſeaſes, as may ſeeme altogether incredible: notwithſtanding by practice found out to be true.

Alſo the portrature of the ſaid Hearbs, verie aptly deſcribed:

Engliſhed by Iohn Frampton Marchant.

Newly corrected as by conference with the olde copies may appeare. Wherevnto are added three other bookes treating of the Bezaar ſtone, the herb Eſcuerconera, the properties of Iron and Steele in Medicine, and the benefit of Snow.

PAUL REVERE'S PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON.

1344 NEW ENGLAND PRIMER ENLARGED; or, an easy and pleasant guide to the Art of Reading, adorn'd with cuts. To which are added the Assembly of Divines, Catechism, etc. 48° boards. Boston: (1780?)
Printed by E. Draper and Sold by the Book-Sellers.

Contains on the front of the first leaf before the title the rare portrait of Washington, said to be engraved by Paul Revere.

In The Engraved Portraits of Washington, by Charles Henry Hart, Grolier Club, New York, 1904, the following account is given of this portrait and it is there reproduced at p. xv.

"In Goss's Life of Paul Revere," p. 501, is printed a letter from Revere to his cousin Mathias Rivoire, in France, in which Revere says:

'Before this reaches you, you will have heard of the victory gained over the British Army, by the Allied Armies, commanded by the brave General Washington. A small engraving of him I send enclosed, it is said to be a good likeness and it is my engraving.'

"It so happens that in the very same year that Revere sent the 'small engraving' to his cousin there was published in Boston, by John McDougall & Co., 'Weatherwise's Town and County Almanack,' on page 7 of which appears the type-metal portrait of Washngton. It is after Peale's portrait and may have been copied from Norman's sheet Almanac for 1780 which it closely follows. I think, therefore, this type-metal portrait of Washington may be accepted as the Revere 'small engraving,' until the ascription is disproved by the production of a copper-plate print bearing his name as engraver."

This is the Stephens copy which was the first copy to appear at auction since the portrait has been identified as that by Paul Revere. Stephens Sale, $100.

MAJOR ROBERT ROGERS'S JOURNAL.

1507 ROGERS, ROBERT. Journals of Major Robert Rogers. Containing an account of several Excursions he made under the Generals who commanded upon the Continent of North America, during the late war. From which may be collected the most material Circumstances of every Campaign upon the Continent, from the commencement to the conclusion of the war. 8° full calf extra, yellow edges, by LARKINS. Printed for the author: London, 1765

Fine copy of the first edition, with unnumbered leaf of advertisements.

The Gerald E. Hart copy, which brought $30, Barlow copy, brought $36.

The journal of this celebrated partisan chief affords us many interesting details of border warfare, in the French and Indian War, which ended seventeen years before the Revolution. It was while associated with Rogers that General Putnam is said to have experienced those wonderful adventures, with the relation of which our youthful nerves have so often thrilled. It is, however, remarkable that Major Rogers does not even mention the name of Putnam.

1508 ROGERS, SAMUEL. Italy;—Poems. Steel plates by J. M. W. Turner and others. 2 vols. 8° magnificently bound by the Doves Bindery, Cobden-Sanderson, 1895, in full green crushed levant morocco, extra, large corner ornaments in gold on sides, gold panel, full gilt back, inside gold borders, gilt on uncut leaves. ROMANS' FLORIDA.

1509 ROMANS, CAPT. BERNARD. A Concise Natural History of East and West Florida, containing an account of the Natural Produce of all the Southern part of British America, in the Three Kingdoms of Nature, particularly the Animal and Vegetable. Vol. 1 (all published). Maps and plates. Small 8° old calf.

Printed for the author: New York, 1775

This copy is complete as published, with six engraved plates by the author, engraved dedication to John Ellis, three full-page maps and one folded tabulated sheet.

With the following inscription, "Hon'ble John Hancock, Esqr. for Harvard College."

The second edition was issued in the following year with an abridged title, less preliminary matter, and without the appendix, but the text in the body of the work is the same in both editions. In the "advertisement" the author announces his intention to issue a second volume, to be accompanied by maps, adding, that "it is now in the press." It does not appear, however, that it ever was published. The plates are curious specimens of early Continental engraving; they were drawn and etched by Romans himself, who throughout he book uses a small i for the personal pronoun.

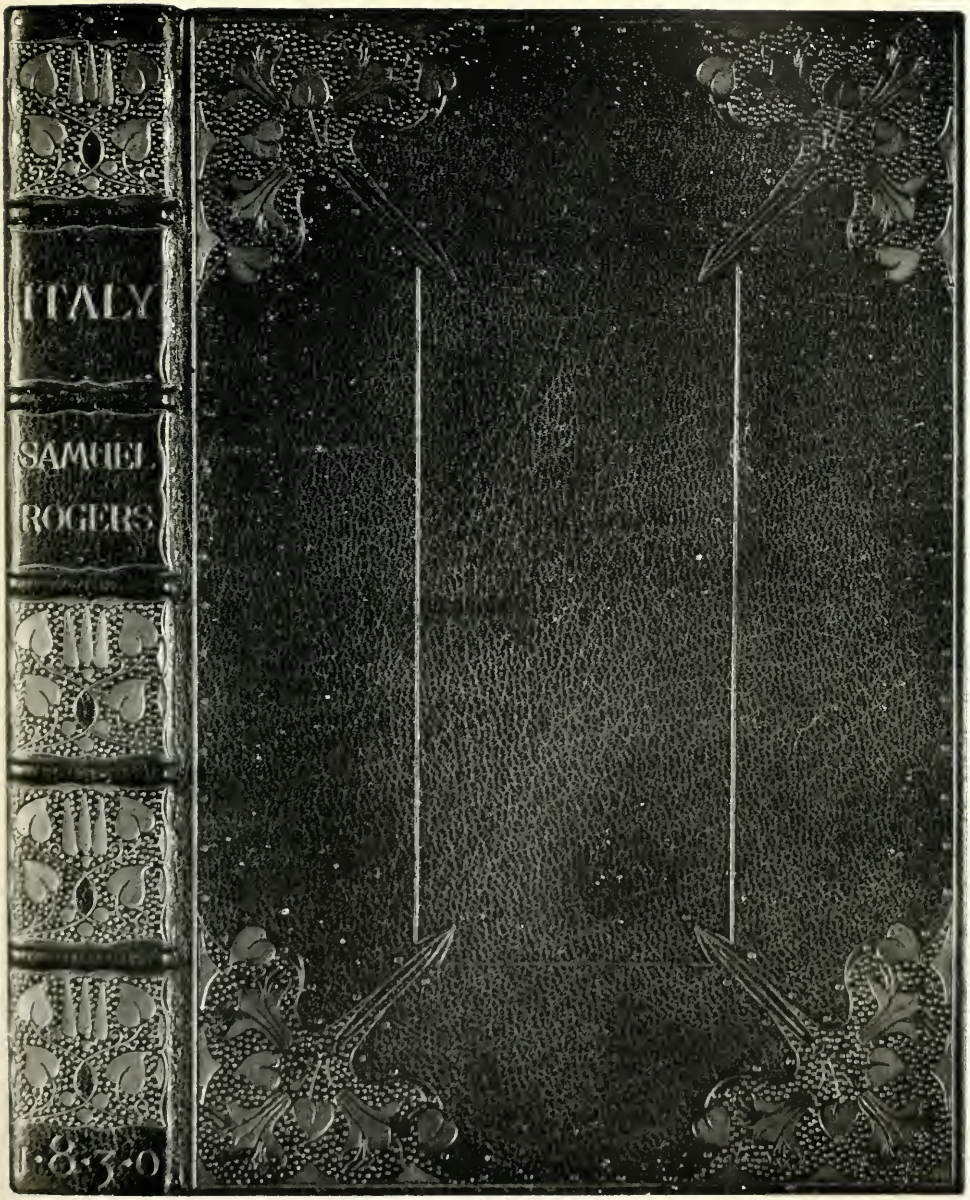

See Reproduction.

The Germ:

Thoughts towards Nature

In Poetry, Literature, and Art.

When whoso merely hath a little thought
Will plainly think the thought which is in him,—
Not imaging another's bright or dim,
Not mangling with new words what others taught
When whoso speaks, from having either sought
Or only found,—will speak, not just to skim
A shallow surface with words made and trim,
But in that very speech the matter brought:
Be not too keen to cry—"So this is all!—
A thing I might myself have thought as well,
But would not say it, for it was not worth!"
Ask: "Is this truth?" For is it still to tell
That, be the theme a point or the whole earth,
Truth is a circle, perfect, great or small?

"The mystery which surrounded the authorship, history and origin of this very rare volume, has been slowly dispelled by successive fragments of information. So few copies have survived the holocaust to which it was devoted, that its very existence was unknown to the most zealous collectors of Indian and Vermont history. Published anonymously without preface, it was known to but few that the author was the Rev. Daniel Clark Sanders, President of the University of Vermont. Immediately after its appearance some person, evidently a personal enemy of the author, published an acrimonious critique upon the book, in the Liberal and Philosophical Repository. The animus of the critique was evinced, not only by the bitterness of his language, but by his ignorance of the subject of Indian wars, being more profound than that of the author of the book he scored. Such was the effect of the articles upon either Mr. Sanders or the publishers that the work was suppressed. But very few copies could have escaped the hands that were now as zealous to destroy as they had lately been to create. In fact, so nearly complete was the destruction of the book, that it was forgotten by those who professed to know most of its author, his biographers. Neither Thompson, Williams or Hemmenway, who published memoirs of Sanders, mention his authorship of this book."—Field.

By Samuel Sewall, sometime Fellow of Harvard Colledge at Cambridge in New England. First ed. Portrait inserted. Small 4° half red morocco, uncut, gilt top.
Massachuset; Boston, Printed by Bartholomew Green and John Allen, and are to be sold by Richard Wilkins, 1697

First edition, uncut copy.

Title; a dedicatory epistle to Sir William Ashhurst, 2 pp.; another dedicatory address to Governor Stoughton, 3 pp.; Psalm 139, 7–10 (in metre), 1 p.; Some Few Lines, &c., pp. 60.

The First Edition of Mr. Sewall's very curious and—in spite of its title—amusing book, is Extremely Rare. The learned and pious author labors "to expose the antick fancy of America's being Hell"—the "Sedem Inferorum" to which Christ descended,—or even the Apocalyptic Gog and Magog; but he honestly confesses (p. 40) that "there is so much Confusion in the discourses upon this subject, that a man cannot tell when he is in Heaven and when he is in Hell," and that "so near an approach to, so compleat a resemblance of Hell was not to be found in rerum natura" as in America.

SHIP OF FOOLS, 1511.

1588 SHIP OF FOOLS. Geyler, Joannis. Navicula, sive Speculum Fatuorum, compendiose Vitæ Jo. Geyleri. Black Letter. One hundred and eleven extremely curious and highly spirited woodcuts, some as large as the page. Small 4° full antique morocco, extra, blind tooling, gilt edges, by THOMPSON. Argentorati, 1511

This very curious satire against the Vices of the Times and more especially against the abuses of the Romish Church, ever since 1815, when Edward's copy sold for £43, has been eagerly sought after by amateurs, for whom a fine copy, owing to the difficulty of meeting one, has the greatest attraction. Many of the laughable woodcuts have Xylographic Inscriptions, which has induced collectors of Block Books to admit this entertaining production as one of their gems. Clement supposes the life was not published with the book, as the only two copies he met with were deficient of that portion.

Douglas, and others. pp. (XXIV), 176. 16° three quarters green crushed levant morocco, gilt back and top, by FORBES & Co.

Printed by P. Timothy, for the Authors: Charles-Town, 1741

Original edition; both the Brinley and Menzies catalogues give collation as pp. XVIII, 118.

This rare pamphlet contains some very unpleasant particulars of the scandalous conduct of the Rev. John Wesley during his apostolic mission in Savannah. According to these gentlemen, "He was indicted before a Grand Jury of Forty-Four Free-holders, and Thirteen Indictments were found against him; one concerned Mr. Williamson and his Spouse." Mr. Wesley, it appears, undertook to "pour the leperous distilment" into the ear of this virtuous lady, to the effect that "her husband had no right to regulate her behaviour as to conversing with him." However, as soon as the distinguished apostle heard that these indictments had been found against him, he did not tarry to discuss the question further, but bolted out of the town in the night, fled to Charles-Town, and thence to England. See pages 41, 42, 43, and 48. See reproduction.
